

GRANT'S WEST INDIA JOB.

THE SAN DOMINGO COMMISSIONERS' INFERNAL SECRET.

Prof. Douglass Interviewing the People and the Bugaboos Interviewing the Bugs—The Old War Horse Reuring.

U. S. STEAMER, TENNESSEE, AZUA BAY, SAN

DOMINGO, Feb. 28.—After the departure from San Domingo City by the regular steamer, the passengers left its original station.

The presence of such a distinguished party, Mr. Wade, Prof. White, and Prof. Howe, for a time excited some curiosity.

The negro nature soon grew tired, and even their sympathetic friends excited no enthusiasm.

The work of the Commission being finished, it was thought that in a few days at least we would be off and away from the wretched town.

Our hopes, however, were doomed to disappointment, for although the Old

War Horse (that's Bon Wade) was ready to move on toward fresh fields, the valiant White and the philanthropic Howe were as equally ready to stay.

In fact, the climate here is so pleasant, and the news from the North in relation to the cold, snow, and sleet was so dismal, that it is no wonder that Prof. White shrinks from exposing his delicate form to the sudden change of temperature to which he would be subjected by a two speedy return.

OLD BEN WADE GOING CRAZY.

Mr. Wade, as we all know, is not the greatest gentleman in the world, and although tamed down a little by the mighty mass of talent with which he is here associated, he cannot help occasionally giving way to his feelings, and expressing himself in choice Anglo-Saxon. The old gentleman has been subjected to so many inconveniences lately by the idiotic and unscrupulous, and we were glad when the four months of travel were over, and he could get back to his home of Washington's birthday, and not for Rosa.

It is to be hoped that such was the case, or now, it is to be hoped to be eventually, as much as he can, for the old gentleman is still here, and he is not likely to be dismissed.

Senator was tried, and that

Baez in his answers has deliberately and successfully pulled the wool over the eyes of the Commission.

We arrived on the 22d of February, and as the President left the ship a state of 21 guns was a salute given to him, and the bugle sounded the birthday of Washington's birthday, and not for Rosa.

It is to be hoped that such was the case, or now, it is to be hoped to be eventually, as much as he can, for the old gentleman is still here, and he is not likely to be dismissed.

The old man, however, did not give up, and as the town of Azua is four miles distant from the port, we had to go ashore.

Prof. White, however, did not give up, and as the old man, however, did not give up, and as the
